THEFT PROTECTION AND GOODS PROTECTION

Particularly for companies with large sales floors, setting up an effective theft detection system is becoming more and more important. Our products will reduce your theft rate and give you an active product security system. We make our products individually to your specific needs, and that means that we can provide you with a system that is just right for you, and corresponds to your individual requirements in terms of form, color, and equipment used. Our security systems will allow you to optimize your personnel head-count, and optimize the use of security personnel, and thus maximize profit. We produce all our own security systems, including the control mechanisms, and we adapt them to your specific needs.

We would be glad to set up your own project-related hotline for you

OCHS SERVICE - WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW EASY IT CAN BE

We offer our customers individual online order areas, to optimize their ordering processes. The password protected order catalogs contain all the product-specific information and prices on the corresponding product portfolio. You can order the desired products there, fast and simple - and in various languages, if needed. Ochs feels strongly that during every customer contact, service must be excellent and must be directly experienced by the customer. And our service shows in the motivation, competence, and friendliness of our employees.
